THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

The LIQUOR DEALERS—A LARGE AND INFLUENT tial meeting of the liquor dealers of the Sixteenth ward was held has tevening at the Utah House, corner of 2t th street and 5th avenue; John Marchant, Esq., in the chair; and John Hoey, Sceretary. Mr. F. F. Fapia presented the following presmble and resolutions, which were spoie at by Hen. David O'Keefe, Hon. Homes, J. Munday, Joseph Hlackburne, Esq., Chas. A. May, Esq., Mr. Mcody and others. The speakers, generally, advocated the election of such men to office as would secure to them their just rights. Mr. Hlackburne particularly spoke of the recent affair of Neal Dow, whom he characterised as a murderer, and in a conversation with an eminent judge the latter said that he ought to be tried for murder, and hung if found guilty. The following are the resolutions:—

"Nearcas, The pirrapus ralling over us have decreed that the day which gave burth to a great and glorious pracupie.— size always heralided with a shout of foy, distant, climes, who had remembered by even those of distant, climes, who had remembered by even those of distant climes, who had remembered by even those of distant climes, who had remembered by even those of the parts, "A people are happy, a people are free!" yet on this day—our Independence Day—to be no deserrated as if no other day could have been chosen for the execution of their hellish schemes to systematise a plan under the pleas of moral reformation, which, if not checked in the commencement, will eventually tend to centre the power in the hands of a few very dargerous and ambitions when the hards of a few very dargerous and ambitions men, who believe that liberty and equality are deagerous phanitoms, and republicanism a peat. Hare we not a right to insist that they only such opinions, when one of the leaders shout before the congregated masses of his durps that better to congregated masses of bird durps that better to congregate the plant of the proper should be proper to the congregate of the congregate of the proper shou

HEW PUBLICATIONS. COMPANIOTON THE LAMPLIGHTER. THE WATCHMAN:

A COMPANIOTON THE LAMPLIGHTER.
THE WATCHMAN:

INTERISTING AND MORAL TALK OF DOMESTIC LIPE.
Published in 1 vol., cloth, 400 pages.
This work has been long and anxiously looked for, and its publication is halled with satisfaction by all readers of pare and classic fleton. The characters are graphically portrayed and vividly impressed upon the imagination of the reader.

"The Watchman" bids fair to become the most popular book of the season.
Although it has been out but two weeks, the fifteenth thousand has gone to press. Everybody reads it. In some respects it is far superior to the "Lamplighter."
When the "Lamplighter" appeared the reading public was taken by surprise. It was an original creation in literature, and was eagerly purobased and perused with an avidity that proved the sathor's power in touching the feelings. Since that period, although many attempts have been made, no work has been written which, in the opinion of the best judges of literary marit, is calculated to achieve such success as the "Watchman." It is a tale of real life and living characters—moral and chaste in its tone, and lofty in its aspirations. The title of the hook speaks for itself. It is a story of humble life—a plain, unvariahed narrative of the distress and straggles of the poor and lowly in their battles with life. It is assentially an American novel, for it proves that in this country, to the possessor of lalent, industry and integrity, poverty and lowly birth are no bars to advancement.

Price for the complete work, handsomely bound in one velume, cloth, is one dollar.
Copies of the above work will be sent to any person, to any part of the United States, per first mail, free of postage, on their remitting $1 to the publishers, in a letter, post-paid. It. LING & BROTHER, Publishers, No. 121 Nassan st., New York, and all booksellers.

DOESTICK'S NEW BOOK.

12mo. Cloth. Elegantly Illustrated. Price $1.

EDITIONIAL OPINIONS.
Since the appearance of Picefola this is one of the most chaste and at the same time most interesting stories which have been printed in the French language.—Commercial Advertiser.

The "Conscript" is a work of great dramatic power and interest. It abounds in thrilling incidents, and is written with brilliant eloquence of style, and it contains a great deal of historical information under a most fascinating form.—Philadelphia Daily Times.

This is a delightful book, one of the latest and one of the best works of a writer whose fecundity and versatility are most remarkable.—Buffalo Express.
